

Conference Training Opportunities

NASRO will once again offer several of our regular training courses during conference week. Conference attendees can register for one of these classes at no additional cost. (Please note that anyone attending one of these classes will not be able to attend the conference breakout sessions on Tuesday and Thursday.)

BASIC SRO - The Basic School Resource Officer Course is a 40-hour block of instruction designed for any law enforcement officer with two years or less experience working in an educational environment. The course emphasizes three main areas of instruction: functioning as a police officer in the school setting, working as a resource and problem solver and the development of teaching skills. Attendees will be given a working knowledge of the School Resource Officer concept and how to establish a lasting partnership with their schools. This course begins at 8:00 am on Saturday, July 31, 2010

ADVANCED SRO - The Advanced School Resource Officer Course is a 24-hour block of instruction designed for any law enforcement officer working in an educational environment. This course will provide additional skills and programs for the experienced SRO to identify and diffuse potentially dangerous situations on campus. This course begins at 1:00 pm on Monday, August 2, 2010

SRO SUPERVISORS AND MANAGEMENT - This 24-hour course is for police supervisors and school administrators who have the responsibility of implementing, supervising, managing and evaluating an SRO program and/or SROs. The goal is to provide managers with information, skills and strategies to develop, coordinate and maintain a successful SRO program in their school community. This course begins at 1:00 pm on Monday, August 2, 2010

COMPARATIVE COMPLIANCE COURSE - This is an 8-hour course designed specifically for those school based law enforcement officers who have been through a minimum of a 40-hour SRO Basic Course other than NASRO Basic Course. Those candidates who desire to have NASRO credit for a course other than a NASRO course may enroll and after successful completion, attendees will be issued a certificate for a NASRO Comparative Compliance Basic SRO Course. This course will be offered on Tuesday, August 3, 2010.

Breakout Sessions Tuesday, August 3 and Thursday, August 5

CONFERENCE THEME:

Preventing Crime in the School Environment

We'd like to extend an invitation for you to attend the 20th Annual SRO-School Safety National Conference to be held in Louisville, KY. In a challenging economy, it is more important than ever to stay educated, keep up-to-date with industry trends, and build relationships in the school safety profession. All of these provide significant value and efficiency that you can take home and use all year long to help prevent crime in the school environment. NASRO is the largest non-profit association dedicated to school safety, and we are confident that this conference will be beneficial to both you and your agency. The information that you take away and apply to your community will directly affect the development of our most precious resource - our youth!

NASRO offers its members the most cost-effective, high-caliber training available for SROs and school administrators that you'll find anywhere. At less than $20 per credit hour, this is a great departmental investment for SRO training and education. Not only will NASRO bring you a wide array of educational opportunities, you will have many opportunities to network with other officers and administrators. Vendors will present the latest technology and products on the market to help you discover better and more efficient ways to keep your campus and community safe.

In addition, your registration fee includes one full year of NASRO membership. What a value! So, don't delay and register at www.nasro.org now. Bring your colleagues and your family to the wonderful city of Louisville!

Featured Presentors

John Giduck

Author, Archangel Group

John is the author of Terror at Beslan: A Russian Tragedy With Lessons for America's Schools and The Green Beret In You: Living With Total Commitment To Family, Career, Sports and Life. He has trained law enforcement departments of all levels across the United States and served as a consultant to several federal agencies. John holds the highest level certification in homeland security and is a member of the Executive Advisory Board of the American College of Homeland Security. John will discuss his book and offer insight into what this means for American schools.

Bernard James, J.D.

Professor of Constitutional Law,
Pepperdine University

Professor James is a regular contributor to NASRO's Journal of School Safety. He specializes in constitutional law and has served as the First Amendment contributing editor of the ABA Preview Journal, which reviews the cases of the U.S. Supreme Court. He also writes for the National Law Journal on First Amendment matters. He lectures in the U.S. and Canada on constitutional issues, and serves as a commentator for the national and local media discussing Supreme Court decisions.

Missy Jenkins

Author, School Shooting Survivor

It was one of the darkest days in America's history—December 1, 1997. Freshman Michael Carneal walked into the Heath High School lobby in West Paducah, Kentucky and started shooting, killing three students and injuring five. One of those injured students was 15-year-old Missy Jenkins, who was left paralyzed from the chest down. But Missy never saw her disability as an end. She would earn countless local and national honors over the years, from "Kentuckian of the Year" to one of Ladies' Home Journal's "Most Fascinating Women." Hers is a story of love, forgiveness, courage and determination—one that will leave people of all ages inspired to make the most of each day and never take life for granted.
